FOREWORD

The Rhode Island Board of Elections is pleased to provide you with our 2002 Primary & Election Count Book. The data contained in this publication is the official record of the votes cast in the September 10, 2002 Statewide Primary and the November 5, 2002 General Election. The information herein includes the results for primaries and elections conducted for federal and state offices in Rhode Island in 2002.

As you review this document and examine the results of the 2002 election we would like to bring some issues to your attention.

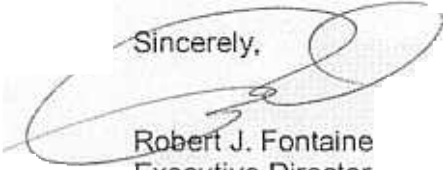

In 1994, Rhode Island voters approved a constitutional amendment requiring the legislature to be "downsized" at the time of the next decennial redistricting. Thus, in 2002, the number of districts in the Senate was reduced from 50 to 38 and the number of districts in the House of Representatives reduced from 100 to 75. Redistricting resulted in each Senate district representing approximately 27,600 people and each House district representing approximately 14,000 people.

Rhode Island General Law 17-1-2(9) requires that, in order to remain a political party, a political organization must "at the next preceding general election for the election of general officers nominated a candidate for governor, and whose candidate for governor at the election polled at least five percent (5%) of the entire vote cast in the state for governor, or ... at the next preceding general election of a president of the United States nominated a candidate for president and whose candidate for president at the election polled at least five percent (5%) of the entire vote cast in the state for president ..." As a result of this statute and their candidate for governor having garnered greater than five percent (5%) of the votes cast in 1994 and 1998 the Cool Moose Party achieved and maintained "recognized" political party status through the 2002 election. However, in 2002, the Cool Moose Party failed to nominate a candidate for governor and, consequently, effective January 7, 2003 ceased to be a "recognized" political party in Rhode Island. Hence, in the wake of the 2002 election, the "recognized" political parties in Rhode Island are the Democratic, Green and Republican Parties.

As part of our on-going efforts to enhance the public's understanding of elections and the election process we have included in this year's edition of the Primary & Election Count Book a glossary of election terms as well as provided additional primary and election voter turnout information.

On behalf of the commissioners and staff of the Board of Elections, we welcome your comments and suggestions for continued improvement of this publication. Please feel free to call the Board at 222-2345 if you require assistance or have any questions.

Sincerely,

Robert J. Fontaine
Executive Director

(1) Only voters registered as Democrats, Republicans or Unaffiliated were eligible to vote in the Sept. 10, 2002 primary.
Persons registered as Cool Moose or Green Party voters were ineligible to vote in either primary.

(2) The "Eligible Vote" shown includes the total number of persons registered by the registration deadline of August 10, 2002. It includes all of those persons who are eligible to vote in the September 10, 2002 Democratic and Republican Party primaries.

(3) Under the general laws of Rhode Island, persons registered as either "Democrat" or "Republican" may only vote in the primary of the party in which they are registered. An "Unaffiliated" voter may elect to vote in either the Democratic or Republican Party Primary, but not both.
The "Eligible Vote" and "Turnout" data included herein are reflective of those considerations.

Note: The above table does not include data from the non-partisan primaries conducted for local offices in E. Providence, Narragansett & N. Smithfield.

ELECTION TERMS

Candidate – a person who has qualified under law to have his or her name appear on the ballot for nomination for election or election to office.

Independent Candidate – a candidate who has no affiliation with any political party.

Irregular Ballot (Write-in Vote) – a ballot voted for any person whose name does not appear on the ballot as a nominated candidate for office; a ballot in which a voter has, in the appropriate space, written in the name of a person for a particular office and made the requisite mark between the head and tail of the arrow within the optech ballot voting area next to the name written in (see “Vote”).

General Election – an election held on the first Tuesday next after the first Monday in November in even numbered years.

Limited ballot – a voter who moves from one city/town in Rhode Island to another city/town in the state less than six (6) months prior to an election or primary, and who fails to register to vote in his/her new community, is eligible to cast a ballot for federal and statewide offices pursuant to R.I.G.L. 17-9.1-16(b).

Mail Votes – votes cast by mail by persons who are unable to vote in person at the polls for the reasons set forth in R.I.G.L. 17-20-2 and who are otherwise qualified to cast mail ballots. (Note: In statewide primaries and elections, mail ballots are tabulated at the Board of Elections on optical scan centralized count voting equipment.)

Overvote – occurs when a voter makes too many selections (see “Vote”) for a particular office (i.e. If, for a particular office, the voter may vote for 5 candidates, and the voter casts votes for 6 candidates, the ballot will be considered to be overvoted for that office and be rejected. The voter will then be given the opportunity to remake his or her ballot.)

Note: Rhode Island’s optical scan voting equipment will reject any ballot upon which a voter cast more votes for an office than that which the voter is eligible to cast.

Political party – a political organization which at the next preceding general election for the election of general officers nominated a candidate for governor and whose candidate for governor polled at least five percent (5%) of the entire vote cast in the state for governor, or any political organization which at the next preceding general election for president of the United States nominated a candidate for president and whose candidate polled at least five percent (5%) of the entire vote cast in the state for president, or any political organization which shall have achieved party status via the petition process outlined in R.I.G.L. 17-1-2(9). An organization which shall have achieved political party status shall retain that status until the next election for the office at which said party shall have achieved said status.

Polling Place – the physical location where voting takes place.

Precinct Votes – votes which are cast and tabulated in a precinct (voting district) on optical scan precinct count voting equipment.

Primary Election – an election to select the candidates (nominees) of a political party.

Public Office – any federal, state, municipal, school, or district office or other position that is filled by popular election, except political party offices which shall mean any state, city, town, ward, or representative or senatorial district committee office of a political party or delegate to a political party convention, or any similar office.

Representative District – a subdivision of the state established by the legislature for the purpose of electing a representative to the Rhode Island House of Representatives, the size of which is based on population data from the latest decennial census. Each representative district includes approximately 14,000 persons.

Senatorial District – a subdivision of the state established by the legislature for the purpose of electing a senator to the Rhode Island Senate, the size of which is based on population data from the latest decennial census. Each senatorial district includes approximately 27,600 persons.

Undervote – occurs when a voter chooses not to make a selection (see “Vote”) for a particular office on the ballot or, in those races where the voter may vote for more than one person, the voter chooses not to cast votes for the total number of persons for whom the voter is eligible to cast votes.

Vote – any mark made between the head and tail of the arrow within the optech ballot voting area next to the party, candidate or question, as is applicable, for whom the voter casts his or her ballot, except as provided in R.I.G.L. 17-20-24(a).

Voting District (Precinct) – a subdivision based upon geographical boundaries and established by the local board of canvassers wherein registered voters are grouped. Except in certain circumstances a voting district may not exceed 1,900 voters.

Ward – a subdivision established by and within a community, the size of which is based on population data from the latest decennial census. Most communities which have established wards elect representatives from each ward to serve on local legislative bodies or boards.
(Note: Generally, though not always, wards are found in cities; many towns may refer to similar subdivisions as “Council Districts”.)

Ward District – a voting district within a ward.

Write-in Candidate – a person receiving votes by virtue of having irregular ballots (“write-in votes”) cast for him/her.
